

CONTENTS

	PAGE
PREFACE	Edith M. Bader v

PART I—PRINCIPLES

CHAPTER

I. COOPERATION: THE NEED IN THE WORLD TODAY	J. F. Brown	3
The World Today		3
Arriving at the World of Tomorrow		14
II. HUMAN PROGRESS IN WORKING TOGETHER	S. A. Courtis	18
Levels and Types of Cooperation		21
III. THE EVOLUTIONARY DEVELOPMENT OF THE SCHOOL	Nellie C. Morrison	33
Earliest Schools		33
Development of Universal Education		35
Education for Democracy		38
Four Functions of the School		39
Changes in Function of the Modern School		41
Cooperative Group Living		42
IV. COOPERATION IN RELATION TO PRINCIPLES OF ORGANIC DEVELOPMENT	Raymond H. Wheeler	48
The Child as a Creative Unit Biologically		52
The Child as a Psychological Unit		55
The Child as a Creative Unit in Society		58
V. THE EDUCATION OF THE WHOLE CHILD	Robert M. Ogden	61
A Work of Art		62
The Teacher an Artist		63
Socialization of the Child		67
VI. THE SCHOOL AND DEMOCRATIC LIVING	Eldridge T. McSwain	69
Organization of the School		71
Evaluation		73
Curriculum		76
School-Community Relations		79

CHAPTER		PAGE
VII.	COOPERATION IN ADMINISTRATION AND SUPERVISION Paul J. Misner	81
	Democratic Cooperation.....	82
	Democratic Administration and Supervision.....	83
	Will Democracy Survive?.....	84
	Responsibility of Administrators and Supervisors.....	85
	The Role of the Specialist.....	85
	The Efficiency of Democratic Cooperative Control.....	88
	Democratic Cooperation and the Community.....	92
VIII.	COOPERATION AS AN IDEAL Pickens E. Harris	95
	Conceptual Bases.....	95
	Some Hindering Factors.....	96
	A Positive View.....	100
	Cooperation More Than Instrumental in Significance.....	101
	Working Bases of Cooperation.....	102
	What the Wider Situation Requires.....	108
	The Ultimate Goal.....	109
IX.	IMPLEMENTING THE IDEAL Stuart A. Courtis	111

PART II—PRACTICES

X.	PURPOSES Nellie C. Morrison	117
	Experimentation Reported.....	118
XI.	EXPERIMENTATION IN DEMOCRATIC COOPERATION IN SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION O. S. Williams	120
	Organization for Participation Imperative.....	122
	Experimenting with Democratic Participation in the Council Type of Organization.....	124
	Experimenting with Democratic Participation in the Forum Type of Organization.....	140
XII.	COOPERATION AS TEACHERS AND ADMINISTRATORS VIEW IT Eldridge T. McSwain	153
	Presentation of Tabulated Responses:
	1. Comparison of Attitudes of Teachers and Superintendents	156
	2. Tabulation of Responses by Superintendents.....	159
	3. Tabulation of Responses by Teachers.....	163
	4. An Analysis of Specific Findings.....	174
	Conclusions.....	176

CONTENTS

ix

PAGE

XIII. REPORTS OF TEACHING EXPERIENCES IN DEVELOPING COOPERATION IN CLASSROOM SITUATIONS	Stuart A. Courtis 177
List of Participants	178
Report I—Pupil Cooperation	Lillian C. Compton 179
Report II—An Experiment in Teacher Cooperation for Self- Improvement	Roberta Shewmaker 181
Report III—Learning About School Expenditures	Audrey V. Hazell 185
Report IV—Cooperation in an Integrated Program	Florence Cleary, Thelma Hurd, and George Miller 190
Report V—Experiencing Cooperation in the First Grade	Flora K. Houston 193
Report VI—Democratic Cooperation in General Art	Helen Newman 197
Report VII—Teaching Cooperation	Bryan Heise 200
Conclusions	206
APPENDIX	207
DEPARTMENTAL RECORDS	219